DESPERATE CRIMINALS DASH FOR LIBERTY

Special to The Times-Dispatch;
SPENCER, N. C., December 30.—Will and Charles Cauther, two white men, serving terms on the Rowan county chaingang for murderous assault on Walter Crump, a prominent young man of this city, escaped from the convict camp, three miles from Sallsbury, to-night. The convicts were being locked up for the night when the men, who are brothers, made a wild dash for liberty. The guards made a desperate effort to stop their flight, but were unsuccessful.

A posse, and officers with bloodhounds are on their trail.

The brothers were convicted last year and serving the serving the
